

Contents

Foreword xi

WILLIAM CHENG

Acknowledgments xv

Introduction: Radical Care 1

COLLEEN RENIHAN, JOHN SPILKER, TRUDI WRIGHT

PART I. THE HEART OF CURRICULAR INTERVENTIONS

Chapter 1. Reenchanted Music History 37

SARA HAEFELI

Chapter 2. Teaching Approaches to Race through Music:
A Timely Example from the American South 49

MOLLY M. BRECKLING

Chapter 3. Empathy in Opera 62

COLLEEN RENIHAN

Chapter 4. Integrating Well-being and Intersectional Equity across a Revised Music History and Culture Curriculum 76

JOHN SPILKER

Chapter 5. Care, Carefully: Caring for the Whole Student from Recruitment through Retention 97

FREDERICK A. PETERBARK

Chapter 6. Kindness as Universal Design: Rethinking the College Music Classroom from Within 108

STEPHANIE JENSEN-MOULTON

PART II. UNMEASURED PEDAGOGICAL HORIZONS

Chapter 7. Connecting Students and Artistic Communities:
Understanding Agency, Fostering Empathy, and Expanding
Representation in the Classroom 125

MARK KATZ

Chapter 8. Toward Socially Responsible Music History
Pedagogy: A Rant, Some Theories, and a Few Resources 137

ERIC HUNG

Chapter 9. Public Musicology as Care, or How Should We Respond When the Duke of Mantua Tells Us That
All Women Are Fickle? 152

WILLIAM A. EVERETT AND MATTEO MAGAROTTO

Chapter 10. Listening with Care to Nonhuman
Musicality and Material Culture 165

KATE GALLOWAY

PART III. SELF-CARE, THE ROOT OF TEACHING

Chapter 11. Curriculum Changing Culture: Improving the Mental Health of University Music Students 185

NATHAN A. LANGFITT

Chapter 12. Teaching the First-Generation College
Student in the Music History Classroom:
A Student-to-Proffessor Perspective 198

REBA A. WISSNER

Chapter 13. New Waters in Music: Recognizing and Processing Trauma While Trying to Diversify a School of Music's Curriculum Offerings 211

AMANDA CHRISTINA SOTO

Chapter 14. Lessons in Student- and Self-Care from Trauma:
A Personal Narrative 226

LAURA MOORE PRUETT

Chapter 15. Mental Health and the Pedagogy of Self-Disclosure 238

MARY NATVIG

Chapter 16. Modeling Cura Personalis: Caring for
Our Students and Ourselves 251

TRUDI WRIGHT

Epilogue: Care for Now 263

COLLEEN RENIHAN, JOHN SPILKER, TRUDI WRIGHT

Contributors 269

Index 273