American Journal of Psychology

The American Journal of Psychology (AJP) was founded in 1887 by G. Stanley Hall and has been published continuously ever since. AJP explores the science of the mind and behavior, publishing reports of original research in experimental psychology, theoretical presentations, combined theoretical and experimental analyses, historical commentaries, and in-depth reviews of significant books. The Journal has published some of the most innovative and formative papers in psychology throughout its history.

American Philosophical Quarterly

American Philosophical Quarterly (APQ) is one of the principal English vehicles for the publication of scholarly work in philosophy. The whole of each issue—printed in a large-page, double-column format—is given to substantial articles; from time to time there are also “state of the art” surveys of recent work on particular topics. The editorial policy is to publish work of high quality, regardless of the school of thought from which it derives.

APQ is published on behalf of North American Philosophical Publications.

Dialogue: A Journal of Mormon Thought

Dialogue: A Journal of Mormon Thought is an independent quarterly established to express Mormon culture and to examine the relevance of religion to secular life. It is edited by Latter-day Saints who wish to bring their faith into dialogue with the larger stream of world religious thought and with human experience as a whole and to foster artistic and scholarly achievement based on their cultural heritage. The journal encourages a variety of viewpoints; although every effort is made to ensure accurate scholarship, the views expressed are those of the individual authors and are not necessarily those of the church or of the editors.

History of Philosophy Quarterly

History of Philosophy Quarterly (HPQ) specializes in papers that cultivate philosophical history with a strong interaction between contemporary and historical concerns. Contributors regard work in the history of philosophy and in philosophy itself as parts of a seamless whole, treating the work of past philosophers not only in terms of historical inquiry, but also as a means of dealing with issues of ongoing philosophical concern.

HPQ is published on behalf of North American Philosophical Publications.

Jazz & Culture

Jazz & Culture is a biannual publication devoted to publishing cutting-edge research on jazz from multiple perspectives. Founded on the principle that both scholars and musicians offer invaluable contributions, the journal juxtaposes groundbreaking work by researchers alongside oral histories and articles written by master artists in the field. All methodological approaches are welcome, including ethnomusicology, music theory, and critical and cultural studies. The journal particularly encourages work relating to jazz’s international scope.

Midcontinental Journal of Archaeology

The Midcontinental Journal of Archaeology (MCJA) is the premier peer-reviewed, academic archaeology journal of the Midwest Archaeological Conference. The MCJA seeks original articles on Eastern Woodlands archaeology of the region between the Appalachian Mountains and the Great Plains, from the Boreal Forests to the Gulf of Mexico, and on closely related subjects. Our contributions range in chronology and context from the kill sites of the continents' first inhabitants to the privies of early 20th-century city dwellers. Authors can choose to publish gold open access in this journal.

Mormon Studies Review

Mormon Studies Review tracks the vibrant, varied, and international academic engagement with Mormon institutions, lives, ideas, texts, and stories. It chronicles and assesses the developing field of Mormon studies with review essays, book reviews, and roundtable discussions related to the academic study of Mormonism. The journal offers scholars and interested non-specialists a one-stop source for discussions of current scholarship on Mormonism, ranging across disciplines and gathering voices from a broad cross-section of the academy, both LDS and non-LDS.

The Pluralist

The Pluralist is a peer-reviewed journal dedicated to advancing the ends of philosophical thought and dialogue in all widely used philosophical methodologies, including non-Western methods and those of traditional cultures. The journal upholds the Socratic dictum of self-knowledge and the love of wisdom as the purpose of philosophy. It seeks to express philosophical insights and concerns humanely and with an eye to literary as well as philosophical excellence, but technical papers are welcome. The Pluralist is the official journal of the Society for the Advancement of American Philosophy.

POLISH AMERICAN STUDIES

Vol. LXXX, No. 1

Spring 2023

Polish American Studies

Polish American Studies is the Polish American Historical Association's interdisciplinary, double-blind refereed scholars journal. The editor welcomes scholarship including articles, edited documents, and related materials with all aspects of the history and culture of Poles in the Western Hemisphere. Particularly welcome are contributions that provide perspective as part of the larger Polish Diaspora, and examine its relationship to other ethnic groups. Contributions from any discipline in the humanities and social sciences are welcome.

PUBLISH WITH UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS PRESS

The University of Illinois Press accepts ongoing submissions to publish your journal with us. At UIP, we are committed to the highest quality of journal publication to serve your scholarly communities.

There are numerous benefits to publishing your journal with the University of Illinois Press:

- We are a professional publishing partner with expertise in print and electronic publication, allowing your journal editor to prioritize obtaining high-quality scholarship for the journal over tending to the details of publication.
- Partnering with UIP can free up valuable staff time so that you can focus on carrying out your organizational goals of retaining and increasing subscriber/member numbers, increasing visibility, increasing revenue, or organizing events.
- We provide you with accurate and transparent budgets and expenses, allowing you to focus on growing your organization and/or carrying out your mission.
- We offer subscribers/members ways to subscribe or renew subscriptions via phone, mail, or the web using a variety of secure payment options.
- We can handle all of your customer service and fulfillment needs; we can even manage your membership database or mailing list through our state-of-the-art subscription management software.
- Journals benefit from the exposure we provide through inclusion in our seasonal catalogs, ads, conference displays, website, social media, blogs, podcasts, and other marketing efforts.
- Libraries feel secure subscribing to a journal that has the backing of a university press.

- UIP journals are offered electronically through the Scholarly Publishing Collective, a collaboration between nonprofit scholarly journal publishers and societies that offers a best-in-class web platform, proven customer relations and library sales and relations teams, and a network of global sales agents with insight into university press content.
- Through the Scholarly Publishing Collective, many of our journals are available as a package purchase for institutions to subscribe to the entire Illinois Collection.
- We work closely with JSTOR and Project Muse to raise awareness of your journal and market it toward more than 7,000 institutions worldwide.
